

One Minute in Sycamore History

How did the Native Americans know where to go if they didn't have maps or street signs? See how many ideas you can come up with in just ONE minute. Ready, set, GO!

The local tribe, the Pottawatomie, created their own markers, like this tree that was found north of Sycamore. See how it's been manipulated to grow in such a unique fashion?

